

Students Sound Off About Teachers and Discipline

What makes a good teacher? Everyone has his own ideas on that question, but six students gave their opinions on the question at a Crenshaw Elementary School assembly Friday.

Participants In Rancho Days Listed

Jack Lauen Wins Award

Torrance high school student named a winner in Ford Motor Co.'s 13th annual industrial arts award contest. Jack Lauen, 14, of 1544 West 221st, won $80, second award in graphic arts division. He attended Alexander Fleming school and his instructor is Ray W. Selk.

The Industrial Arts award contest is open to students in the seventh through the twelfth grades, and to students of vocational or trade schools. The competition is sponsored by the company to encourage fine craftsmanship among industrial arts students in the United States, its territories and possessions.

More than 45,000 projects in 14 competitive categories were entered in 75 local and regional contests last spring. Of these, 266 were sent to Dearborn for final judging.

Friday. The sextet, with Rita Wells moderating, are members of Mrs. Ursula Wallace's fifth and sixth grade class, which has been debating various questions of interest. Each class in school gave some part of the program.

In general, the students want a strict, but understanding teacher who has no "pets." Their specific views on other characteristics were as follows:

1. WHAT MAKES a good teacher?

Linda Pelley—A good teacher is understanding and helps the children. There shouldn't be any pets. When youngsters misbehave, they should be scolded at once, not later.

Carimne Petretto—The teacher should be sure to call on everybody, not just certain ones.

Dorothy Mahen—A good teacher should get spelling out of the way first thing in the day, so everybody wouldn't have to worry about it.

Kathy Dziubanski—A good teacher has no favorites and gives 15 or 20 minutes a day in homework. There shouldn't be too much homework, but a little is all right.

Bob Betts—The teacher should be strict, but not too much.

2. SHOULD A Teacher give lots of work?

Mike Nolin—The teacher should give lots of work. Some kids get into mischief if they are not busy.

Carimne—She shouldn't give too much work.

3. WHAT SHOULD be done when a student misbehaves?

Mike—If a student misbehaves, he should be sent to the principal, who should call the parents.

Kathy—Expel them. Punish them.

Linda—The teacher should call the parents and then the principal.

Bob—Sometimes their parents don't care what they do. The best thing is to keep them in school and make them work.

Carimne—The principal should talk to them.

Dorothy—What they need is a good spanking.

4. WHAT SHOULD a teacher do if a student is often sleepy in class?

Carimne—The teacher should call the parents and tell them to put him to bed earlier.

5. WHICH is better—a strict or an easy teacher?

Mike and Kathy—Real strict.

Bob—With a strict teacher, you get more done.

Linda—Yes. You learn a lot more.

Carimne—Strict teachers are all right, but the middle-way ones are better.
